

and the daughter of April Brown,” and who is not a party to this action. (Docket No. 10 at 3-5.) Judge Knowles also noted that the motion did not comply with the procedural requirements for seeking a restraining order under Federal Rule of Civil Procedure 65 and that the materials did not attempt to address the legal standard for issuing injunctive relief. (Id.)

While the plaintiffs’ response is docketed as an objection, the plaintiffs state that, as to the R&R, “[the court’s] point is well taken. La Shonda is not a plaintiff in this case. [The court’s] denial is well accepted.” (Docket No. 14 Ex. 1 at 1.) While the plaintiffs continue to supplement the record with materials related to Ms. Brown’s education and, through an Amended Complaint filed on September 9, 2010, added Conjuan Horn as a plaintiff (Docket No. 15), there appears to be no objection to Judge Knowles’s R&R, and, on this court’s review of the record, there reasonably could not be.

The decision recommended by Judge Knowles in the R&R stands. For the reasons stated therein and herein, it is hereby ORDERED that the plaintiffs’ “Motion: F/ Restraining Order and Stop of Action” (Docket No. 8) is DENIED. This case is referred back to the Magistrate Judge consistent with the referral Order.

It is so ordered.

Enter this 23rd day of September 2010.

A handwritten signature in black ink, appearing to read 'Aleta A. Trauger', written over a horizontal line.

ALETA A. TRAUGER
United States District Judge